Yale Materials Handling Corporation Continues to Stand as a Leader in Electric Lift Truck Design

'Warehouse Solutions' Brochure Highlights Dedication to Greener Technologies

GREENVILLE, NC, October 16, 2008 – Yale Materials Handling Corporation recently introduced its 'Warehouse Solutions' brochure, a collateral piece that highlights the various levels of electric trucks that Yale has to offer. With more than 80 years of experience in electric lift truck design and manufacturing, Yale provides materials handling equipment with top-of-the-line, industrial grade critical components. It continues to support the use of greener technologies; which is evidence in its newest electric rider truck- set to unveil at ProMat 2009: the ERC-VG

Yale offers the complete warehouse solution. From dock to rack; conventional aisle; narrow aisle; and very narrow aisle to special applications and intelligent ergonomics, Yale continues to provide the highest levels of electric-powered efficiency.

"Yale has consistently been a leader in clean, efficient product design," said Don Chance, President, Yale North America. "Our continual growth in the electric truck lift truck category is evidence to the fact that we are on the cutting edge of greener technologies and design. We continue to raise the bar."

Some of the leading products that make up the 'Warehouse Solutions' brochure are:

- ERC-VG- New, electric rider truck MPE- for Dock to Rack Solutions
- ERP-TH- Conventional Aisle Solutions
- NR & NDR- Narrow Aisle Solutions
- NTA- Very Narrow Aisle Solutions

Customers can request a 'Warehouse Solutions' brochure from their local Yale dealer or national accounts representative, or by visiting Yale's Web site www.yale.com.
